FFA CHAPTER AT YOE HIGH MARKS WEEK

Yoe High FFA members are marking National Future Farmers of America Week February 15-22 with a look at the role FFA plays in helping build foundations for the nation's future agricultural economy.

FFA Chapter membership at Yoe High has climbed to 144 boys, Vo-ag teacher C. Tittsworth said. He cited figures showing a net income of $35,323.56 earned from 1968 projects by 89 Yoe High FFA members.

Averaging $396.89 per boy, the projects were carried out on the boys' home farms, using knowledge gained in the classroom. Projects ranged from livestock to grain and other crops.

Projects for 1968 included 144 head of beef cattle which earned a net profit of $6,306.60; 617 head poultry netted $514.09; 46 acres of corn and cotton, $2,491.28; 12 head dairy cattle, $3,706.23.

And 196 head of swine netted $3,358.92; eight sheep, $39.70; 45 acres grain sorghum, $2,041; seven acres small grain, $411.04; and miscellaneous projects added $11,404.70.

"FFA is an integral part of the program of vocational education in agriculture in the public school system," Tittsworth said. "The FFA motto is 'Learning to do, Doing to earn, Earning to live, Living to serve.'"

Tittsworth said with the gain in membership Yoe High FFA project programs are expected to achieve greater results in 1969.

AD DEADLINE NEAR...

TV Tab Resuming

The Cameron Herald is resuming publication of "Now Showing", the television supplement in the issue of February 27.

Written, telephone and personal comment has been enthusiastic. Two television stations have responded with good criticism.

Final deadline for advertising copy for the February 27 issue is 3 p.m. Thursday, February 20.

"Now Showing" will be going to full-color cover instead of solid three-color print in a few weeks.

A survey shows "Now Showing" is the only newspaper television supplement in Central Texas which has all commercial network stations in Austin, Waco and Bryan and Channel 9, the Austin educational station as well.

Readers are urged to tell local businesses of their interest, editor Frank Luecke said. The publication, second special section within The Herald, is one of the few outside metropolitan areas of the state.

Survey comments laud "Now Showing" as "wonderful," the "best television guide we have seen" and similar comment.

Survey sheets from the test issue of February 6 still continue to the TV editor, The Herald.

Contacts with advertisers will be completed Thursday for the next issues of the supplement. Rate cards are available upon request. George Jones or Luecke, of The Herald, are making contacts. Color and black advertising is available.

Ft. Hood Soldier Killed

One-Car Wreck Claims Life Of Wharton Man

A young Fort Hood soldier was found dead in his car early Tuesday morning about seven miles south of Cameron on US 77, the victim of a one car accident.

Julius John Petrash, 20, of Wharton, was pronounced dead on arrival at 6 a.m. at a local hospital.

Highway Patrolman Leroy Broadus said Petrash was apparently returning to Fort Hood from his home in Wharton when his late model Chevrolet apparently went out of control about 4:45 Tuesday morning. The car left the highway and plowed into a pile of brush and logs left along the highway shoulder by construction crews preparing right-of-way.

Broadus said Petrash suffered a deep cut over his right eye, head injuries, and a deep cut on the right side of his neck. The car was heavily damaged.

Petrash was a member of Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, 81st Armor at Fort Hood. His body was taken to Gommert Funeral Home in Rogers pending funeral services in Wharton.

GROUP VIEWS HEALTH NEED, NEW ZONING

Mayor E. A. Perrin Wednesday advised The Herald that negotiation of a contract with Texas Health Dept. for a two-year zoning plan study will clear the way for the start of the urban renewal downtown program.

City Council Tuesday night heard the Mayor report on a comprehensive plan, primarily zoning and health recommendations, by a committee in meetings almost twice a week for several weeks. Committee is headed by Eugene Smithman, of Cameron.

The committee's work is actually updating a plan approved by the same technic in 1968, and approved by Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in Fort Worth, but the plan is required to be updated every two years.

Negotiation with the Texas Health Dept. is required to clear the way for a grant to pay for a professional assessment of zoning and planning needs within the next year or two.

Perrin said Walter Albritton & Associates, of Dallas, has been designated by the City to work on the study with the aid of a professional city planner.

Mayor Perrin said the contract with Texas Health Dept. can be completed after two readings at City Council meetings and final Council approval. Forms from a Mr. Herron, of Austin, have been received at City Hall. HUD funds, administered by Texas Health Dept. will be used in the study.

Perrin said urban renewal funds can begin to be drawn from HUD for downtown projects as soon as the contract with Texas Health Dept. is certified and the planner and engineers engaged.

The zoning and planning committee has been studying future needs in commercial, residential and industrial areas of Cameron, following outlines of how city development is now, and how it will move in the future.

No final recommendation has been released, either to the Council or the public.

But the plan will designate areas of Cameron either residential, commercial or industrial and recommend health controls for all areas of the community.

In other Council action, progress reports were heard on the water-sewerline extension to Northwest Cameron and the industrial area. Officials expect completion of both by March 1.

Officials at Walled Lake Door Co. have taken bids for proposed expansion at the plant, according to plant manager James Wilkinson. And Royal Seating Corp. looks to a March 1 starting date for production, officials note.

Mayor Perrin said paving of the street project now about one-third curbed and leveled would probably be completed by mid-March.

He said base material is compacting during current inclement weather and would be ready for hot-mix asphalt in a few weeks.

Council also discussed a short sewerline extension in southwest Cameron.

Other reports and business were routine.

109

By F. M. L.

The subject is fear.

What is so terrible as a blinding rush of not knowing, which inspires inertia and miscue and panic?

What is so terrible as not knowing? Could lack of information be fear itself?

Is it if it involves judgment on what to say or do in a civil situation?

Is it also a physical protective device, when the body reacts to danger, real or imagined, adrenalin coursing throughout, alerting and strengthening and quickening anticipation?

Fear sharpens the senses, bypassing the conscious and welling up the unconscious response in incredible quickness. The unconscious reacts from millions of previous enactments, once conscious, but now recorded in mind's depth for instant re-enactment.

109-109-109

This is good: saving life, avoiding injury, stretching the span the conscious has to learn in.

Ah, but this fear is nothing like the not knowing. When there is no response, no experience to draw from, no conscious information to compare, no intuition to fly, there is fear.

It trips the tongue and befuddles the mind and stirs reaction, perhaps a flow of emotion where the mind vacates capacity or shows capacity vacant.

Out come residual images and basic inadequacies and vengefulness and stereotype, colored by the not knowing, clouded in words and sounds, adding not a whit, and sometime shouting, beyond necessity, frustration. And even such a shout, cleverly muted with imagination, but little thought, sounds reasonable.

This happens to us all: the man who denies his potential for inspiration, the man whose limits are shallow and thereafter decides either to expand that limit or live with it, the man who leaves nine tenths of his mind untampered and unproductive and who falls back on the unconscious replay of earlier, less adequate man.

If there is time, and usually there is, fear fades and resources fuel away the disarray. Order returns as awareness of not knowing teaches how to live with it, incredulous and fascinated and less visceral and dogmatic.

109-109-109

Fear fades. And it is a horrible experience because this kind of fear is known only alone, though each experiences it many times by the hundreds of millions of us.

Fear knows bounds where there is thought. Fear fades when ultimates are measured against values, acquired and basic and inspired.

Fear fades when there is communication among the fearful. And

Rep. Kubiak Reports Mail On Liquor Proposal 'Tremendous'

A "tremendous amount of mail" has been received by Rep. Dan Kubiak on HJR 12 and SJR 19, the bill designed to offer a constitutional amendment for allowing liquor by the drink.

In his weekly newsletter, Rep. Kubiak commented on this and on several others of the 325 bills introduced in the first few weeks of the 61st Legislative Session. At least 2000 proposals are expected to be offered before the June 3 close of the session.

"Our district voted by an overwhelming majority against this liquor by the drink referendum when it was on the ballot," Kubiak said, "and I certainly will abide by the wishes of my constituents."

A bill providing a sick leave policy for teachers has been referred to the Committee on Public Education, of which Kubiak is a member. Voting last week was on a bill increasing pension benefits for retired teachers and state employees, which Kubiak supported. He reported voting against SB 20, the high interest bill.

Kubiak said the Agriculture Committee was considering the consumer bill aimed at protecting Texas housewives from buying out-of-state eggs which have been packed in Texas egg cartons. About 45 percent of eggs sold come from out of the state, Kubiak said.

The deluge of bills is keeping committee meetings in session from early morning until the late hours, the new representative said. "When one reads and studies some of these bills," he said, "one wonders how some of these even get any consideration."

"It has been said that the one weakness of a democracy is that it will eventually strangle itself on laws," Kubiak said. "While the great American System isn't anywhere near that, it nonetheless is beginning to cough."

Yoemen Take RR In 56-49 Windup

Yoemen cagers topped off season play Friday night with a "legnappe" victory over Round Rock to take their district record up to 7-3.

Trailing the Dragons at half-time, the Yoe squad came back during the last quarter to add the final flip to a good year with the 56-49 win.

Robert Brashear led individual scoring with 17 points. Tommy Terrell added 12, Jerry Richardson 10, Bobby Simpson 9 and Johnny Steatner 8.

The junior varsity was swept by the RR JV's in a 36-30 game Friday night. Manuel Thomas led scoring with 15 points.

The freshmen also went down to the Dragons freshmen with Richardson's 12 points tops for Yoe. Final score in that game was RR 42, Cameron 28.

SEASON STATISTICS

Getting off to a fairly slow start in '63 play, the Yoemen came up the scoring ladder and by district competition time had welded together into a spirited team that topped all Yoe cage efforts in 15 years.

Season-end statistics released by Coach Ron Murdoch show the Yoemen averaged 55.1 points per game with a 51.4 point average for opponents.

Terrell was leading scorer for the year with 353 points. Brashear followed closely with 330, Steamer 258, Simpson 212, and Richardson 144. Richardson played 20 of the 27 games while the other four starters played all 27.

Norman Trubee added 14 to varsity scores, William Wheeler 13, Danny Monroe 6, David Edmonds 7, and Jim Lester 6.

District victories included a 57-54 win over Caldwell, 46-36 over Georgetown, 64-51 over Round Rock 57-56 over Caldwell, 55-50 over Elgin.

Cameron lost both district games with Hearne, District 19 - AA champs, in 46-64 and 69-78 bouts. In two games with Elgin the Yoemen lost the first, 36-49, but took that team in a 35-50 rematch.

The Yoemen downed Caldwell twice in 57-54 and 57-56 tilts, both close ones. Georgetown Eagles fared worse in cage action with the Yoemen, losing in 46-36 and 53-40 games.

And Round Rock Dragons failed to breathe fire into their 64-51 and 56-49 court battles with the Yoe varsity.

Turning to track now that basketball is over, the Yoemen can look back on their '68-'69 season with pride.

If Confusion Reigns . . .

Nothing is open wider and left gaping longer than the mouth of an unqualified critic.

Spouting opinion as if fact and inuendo as if truth is a favorite sport. It cannot stand examination and must hide in numbers.

Paradoxically, the newspaper's heart is an intelligent editorial page. The pulse of its integrity and awareness is taken there. And this is business of ideas and controversy.

When a newspaper comments, it is part of a record, if a record is kept. Free speech, which is good, allows all kind of temper to swell in controversy. A good part of it, unfortunately, is foundless.

Whether or not you agree with these pages, letters are invited to the editor.

But please, think before you write, like you would think before you speak. Thinking something is so does not make it so, no matter how many think it.

In a word, if confusion reigns, let that "rain" be facts.

Room For REA . . .

We hope Railway Express Agency can reinstitute service in Cameron - town.

It is impractical to receive REA freight in Temple. And it is not likely REA officials want to keep limited service too long.

The town is expanding, beginning to move. Industry here would be best served, as well as existing business, by REA's availability, though needs may not be as great as a yesteryear and displaced by other available transportation service.

Congrats, Cameron Cagesters . . .

We would be amiss if congratulations were not extended to the 1968-69 Yoe basketball squad for breaking a 15 - year drought and turning in a creditable 15-12 season.

It looks as if basketball has regained major sport status in Cameron for the first time in more than a student lifetime. It is good to see balance restored and the crowds that cheered their appreciation for a well-coached, "can - do" cage five.

Football is a fine sport, but it had so dominated sports life here so long that other major sports suffered by comparison. And it took only a short time to see the Cameron sports public will support good team basketball.

Congratulations for a job well done.

Picking A Campus . . .

The high school graduate who has the brains and the money may still have difficulty finding a college or university to suit his vision of his future. It is of national interest, therefore, that two seniors at Massachusetts Institute of Technology have perfected a scheme for computerizing college selection.

Their system, "Select," has been sold to a leading publisher, Harcourt, Brace & World. It is designed to match a student's aptitudes and preferences with some two million items of data from 3,000 U.S. colleges and universities and come up with a list of institutions best fitted to his choice.

This may sound superfluous to readers who remember when a student selected his college by proximity, or tradition, or football scores. But today's young people are bound neither by geography nor old school ties.

Oregon ranks high in the opinion of students who venture beyond state boundaries. A recent compilation by the U.S. Office of Education indicated that in 1963 more than 6,000 Oregon residents left the state to attend college, but that more than 9,000 came to Oregon from elsewhere to get a higher education.

Incidentally, the "Select" computer considers living conditions, climate, population density, etc., which recommend going to college in Oregon.

Liquor Amendment Gets Senate Committee Nod

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Legislators are beginning to move along with some of the important decisions facing them.

A Senate committee gave approval to a constitutional amendment by which voters will be allowed to say "yes or no" at the general election, November 1970, whether they want liquor by the drink in Texas on a local-option basis.

A House committee gave the companion proposal a friendly reception, and is expected to approve it there, too. But sponsors agree that it will be hard to get the two-thirds majorities necessary in each house to pass the proposal on to voters.

Next big proposal for the House Constitutional Amendments Committee is the $3.5 billion water bond proposal sponsored by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake. This is the state's share of financing for the $10 billion Texas Water Plan. It, too, will go to the voters in November of 1970, if two-thirds majorities in each house agree to submit it.

BILLS ADVANCE

A bill to raise retirement benefits of state employees to 25 per cent (up 10 per cent) landed on the governor's desk following passage by both houses.

Another measure approved by both houses raises the maximum interest rate on state and local bonds from five to six and a half per cent.

Senate has passed proposed constitutional amendments to guarantee equal legal rights for women, grant state funds to governors' elect and to exempt rural water supply districts from taxation.

Bills passed by the Senate include measures to transfer 45 acres from Harris to Waller County, permit Texas A&M University to issue revenue bonds for water and sewage facilities on its campuses and authorizing sale of a Texas Woman's University lot in Denton to finance a music scholarship.

BILLS GALORE

Usually the number of bills filed at the Capitol slackens after the first few weeks. So far this session, it hasn't happened.

—Rep. Grant Jones of Abilene has introduced a bill to add at least 50 per cent to the tuition fees of non-Texas students at state colleges while increasing tuition for Texans only slightly.

—Rep. George Hinson of Mineola has a bill through committee to allow school districts to get full state aid for students taking vocational courses in another district.

—Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur has dropped a bill into the House which would allow public employees to have labor unions.

—Four House bills to strengthen the obscenity law have been introduced.

—Rep. Cletus Davis of Houston has announced that he will introduce a bill to replace article 12.6 of the Texas Penal Code (known as the paramour statute) which allows a husband to murder legally a man "taken in the act of adultery with his wife."

—Two bills to up the punishment for firearms crimes have been introduced by Sens. Jack Hightower of Vernon and Henry C. Grover of Houston.

—Rep. Parker also has introduced a bill to regulate and license private detectives and guards and their employers.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

"The trouble with you," an agricultural expert told me the other day, "is you don't plan your farming operations far enough in advance." and I was thinking about this, wondering if a man sleep better not knowing what he's going to do the next morning than he does knowing he's got to get up and start digging post holes, when I picked up a newspaper I'd been saving for emergencies and before I could even sit down my eye caught a headline: New York City Draws Up Master Plan For Next 10 Years.

Now there's planning, I said, ten years in advance, maybe that's what I need after all for this Johnson grass farm, and sat down and read the article.

According to it, New York has —Sen. Criss Cole, Houston, has introduced a bill providing that subdivision plats in unincorporated areas must be approved by the county commissioners court before they may be filed and recorded.

—Sen. Cole also has introduced a bill providing for improved control of solid waste disposal and giving authority to counties, the State Health Department and the Water Quality Board. Rep. Rex Braun of Houston also has introduced some pollution control bills and opposition between the two has arisen.

CONSOLIDATION OPPONENTS

The Little Red School House Committee, made up of rural landowners, farmers and ranchers from all over Texas, will lobby against the companion bills by Sen. A. R. Swartz of Galveston and DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi. Their bills would reduce the number of school districts in Texas from 1,218 to 353.

Charles Schreiner III, Mountain Home rancher and chairman of the Committee, said, "More bigness is not an absolute guarantee of excellence."

COURTS SPEAK

Texas Supreme Court refused a hearing on the State of Texas' plea to put some 4,000 acres of land on Matagorda Bay into the public domain class.

Other half of the case is H. P. Baxter Jr. who owns a tract of 4,505 acres which was originally about 355 acres. State says the land was "grown" by dredging and the like, while Baxter's lawyers contend it was a gradual process since 1803. So far, Baxter has won in the lower courts, so will keep the land.

COLLEGE KNOWLEDGE CLIMBS

Higher education planners handed the Legislature an explosive new issue—higher tuitions and steep building up fees for college students.

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System adopted by a wide margin the finance committee proposal to double tuitions and establish a $165 a year fee for students at six proposed new schools. Fee would go to retire building bonds.

prepared a 300,000-word plan to be printed in six volumes outlining what it needs to do to keep from choking to death on metropolitan civilization.

I won't go into detail, some of the ideas sounded all right, like elimination of all crime, all poverty, all traffic congestion, all pollution, etc., but the clincher was how the city's going to swing it, as the report estimated it will cost 50 billion dollars over the next 10 years.

"Most of the 50 billion dollars," the report added as an afterthought, "must come from the Federal government." New York, you must remember, like a lot of other cities and this Johnson grass farm, is mostly financially busted.

I got to thinking about this and decided, by George, that agricultural expert is right, I'd better get to planning myself before New York plans Washington out of most of its money.

Furthermore, you know if New York wants 50 billion from Washington, it won't be long before Los Angeles and Philadelphia and Chicago and Detroit and all the other 22 major cities in the U.S. put in their claims, saying, look, we're just as civilized and busted as New York, and for the 22, at 50 billion apiece, that'd come to 1,100 billion, or, in round numbers, $1,100,000,000,000, which I think is pronounced 1 trillion, 110 billion.

This of course leaves out the natural handwagon claims from Cameron, Buckholts, Rockdale, and all the other thousands of smaller cities and towns in the United States which certainly would want in on the proceeds from planning.

The competition is too stiff, I've dropped my own planning. I tell you, there's something to be said for waking up in the morning not knowing what you're going to do.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

How economical is a gas dryer?

Ask a man who owns 68!

Pay the energy bills for 68 dryers and you've got to form some opinions on economy. Dallas washeria owner S. D. Dean does, so he knows gas dryers cost far less to operate. For instance, a typical home model costs five times less to run than an electric dryer. Is that the kind of economy you want? You can have it with a gas dryer... whether you're paying the bills for 68 of 'em... or just one! See your gas appliance dealer or Lone Star Gas during Washday Wishday Sale. Enjoy the convenience and economy of a gas dryer.

When you think about it, Gas living makes sense!

WHAT IS A TOWN?

One definition given by a certain dictionary, says a town is a collection of inhabited houses, generally larger than a village. To some big city travelers it is merely a name on a road map.

But for many of us, a town can be a number of things. It is a place where great men of our nation have had their grass roots.

For the most part, its people live close to nature, and are endowed with a sentimental and sympathetic understanding with their neighbors. Its atmosphere can be one of genuine friendliness and hospitality to all who may be visitors.

To those who have long ago departed from their old home town, it holds for them a treasure of memories of good folks, and the scenes of their childhood.

So, what is a town? It is not just a collection of houses. A town is what you make it.

we are many. It is the largest fraternity, growing larger. It is lighter, the unknown, when a flock of thought glows against the dimness.

Fear is not worth a worship, though man erects icons in his mind to it, thinking it may be obscured. It is alive, however, and devastating.

Life is knowing fear by sensing it and facing it and taking its measure. Even if fear is unquenchable, it is manageable.

A little light, a little light and a little more light make the not knowing less blinding.

Fear begs to be found out. And goes begging.

Natural Beauty Around Texas Shown On Film

Members of the Civic Garden Club met at the All Saints' Episcopal Parish Hall on Thursday morning for their February meeting. Mrs. Leo Fuchs and Mrs. T. T. Mackey were co-hostesses. During the social hour they offered kolaches with coffee for refreshments. A valentine for each member was on the plate.

The program was "Beauties of Nature", presented via Kodachrome colored slides with commentary by Mrs. Leo Fuchs. Texas native flora of the more arid sections of the state were featured in the presentation along with beautiful rock formations from which many of these flowers spring forth.

It was shown that much of this beauty is developed with practically no rainfall. The speaker noted that in using these plants in the home garden it is essential that all in this category should be planted in specific areas and not along with blooming plants which require much more water.

Medicinal value of some of the plants was also noted, in particular, the Spanish dagger, which leaves have sharp points and can tain a poison which when applied to a rattlesnake bite, will counteract that poison and many times will save the life of an animal as well as humans.

Mrs. J. A. Bowling, club president, presided for a short business session. She gave information from the district director's Newsletter which included information on the forth coming Spring Meeting of District V, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. which will be held in Temple on March 20 at the Federated Club House. Advance registration ($3.50) is required and must be sent to Mrs. Cecil Biggs, Box 722, Temple, Texas 76701 by March 15th.

EATING OUT COSTS
Americans spend about $50 billion a year for food and beverages served away from home. About $18 billion of this is spent in restaurants, cafeterias, lunchrooms and refreshment stands. Another $6 billion is spent in institutions such as hospitals, colleges, homes for aged and children and camps. Hotels and motels account for $3 billion and another one billion goes to such places as drug and department stores, delicatessens, movies, private clubs and factories.

Cherries Are February Tradition

By Christine Laws

Ever since George Washington wielded a hatchet on his father's cherry tree, cherries have been a tradition in February. Different kinds of cherries are available in frozen and canned state.

Cherries are sweet or sour, light red, dark red or white. Read the label and choose cherries for the dish you wish to prepare. Labels should tell if cherries are red tart, red sweet or light sweet.

The label should tell if the cherries are pitted or have pits, and are packed in water, cherry juice, light or heavy syrup. Some canned or frozen cherries have spices and other flavorings added.

CHOOSING CAULIFLOWER
Fresh cauliflower is reasonably priced this time of year.

Cauliflower, is a good source of Vitamin C, like other members of the cabbage family. It is sold either by the head or by the pound.

As you select cauliflower look for a solid, creamy, white head, compact and clean. Also look at the jacket. The leaves should be bright and green in color, and fresh appearing.

Green leaves may extend through the cauliflower head but, it is best to avoid heads that have spreading clusters. It indicates the head is overmature. Spotted, bruised or speckled heads are not a good choice unless they can be trimmed without too much waste.

COOKING PORK
Cooking pork to a well done stage of 175 degrees F. destroys any chance of contacting trichinosis. The trichina worm is destroyed at 150 degrees F. but Frank Orts, meat specialist recommends the extra temperature as a buffer zone.

Thin pork chops and steaks usually are cooked well done. But for a pork roast, use a roast meat thermometer.

Trichinosis usually comes from hogs to which raw garbage is fed. The worm forms a cyst in a muscle and is transmitted from the pork to a human who eats it. Government inspection cannot detect the microscopic organism.

Watson Bill Asks Tax-Free Status For Rural Water

The hundreds of small rural water companies set up on a non-profit base to provide water for rural homes all over Texas would be exempt from taxation under a pair of proposals by Senator Murray Watson, Jr. of Mart.

Under a program of the Farm-ers Home Administration, hundreds of loans have been made for construction of water systems in rural areas. The loans are being repaid out of water sales.

Organizers used the voluntary water company system rather than creating water districts which would have been exempt from property taxes because they are governmental agencies. They found that organizing costs were simpler, and it was not necessary to have elections and issue bonds.

But Watson said that in some areas county tax assessors are levying taxes on the water systems.

Lt. Governor Ben Barnes referred the proposed constitutional amendment to the Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee, and the enabling bill to the State Affairs Committee.

Beef Cow Numbers Grow In Texas But Prices Show Drop

Total Texas beef cow numbers experienced a growth of 25 percent during the period between 1939 and 1964, according to Dr. Edward Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University. The total growth of the Texas beef cow population in these five years was 962,058 head.

One hundred and sixty two Texas counties experienced an increase in beef cow numbers of at least 24 percent during the period.

Prices of cattle and calves during the five - year period were dropping. Cattle prices in Texas during 1959 averaged $21.60 Cwt., but by 1964 had fallen to $14.90 Cwt. Calf prices in 1959 averaged $25.80 Cwt., but only $18.60 Cwt. in 1964.

TOMATO SQUEEZE GONE

A machine may someday take the squeeze out of buying tomatoes. U.S.D.A. scientists are working on a machine which will help provide more uniform, better-quality tomatoes. The homemaker won't need to squeeze the fruit because the machine will look inside to see how ripe the tomatoes are.

County Agent's Notes . . .

Winter Rains Aid Coastal Sprigging

By J. D. Moore

Several thousand acres of Coastal bermuda are in the process of being sprigged in Milam County with a number of stockmen going "full steam ahead" with planting during February. The Careycrest ranch two miles east of Milano hopes to get 500 acres of coastal planted according to George Davis, manager. Davis planted between 400 and 500 acres of coastal last spring.

Coastal bermudagrass maintains a high position with Texas farmers and ranchers as a popular permanent pasture, advises Dr. J. Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist at Texas A&M University. More acres are planted to Coastal than any other permanent pasture grass because it has proved to be a high-producing, good-quality forage species for hay and grazing he adds.

This is a good time of the year for growers to sprig Coastal since it is planted from vegetative material and sprigging during the dormant season has proved desirable. Coastal sprigs can be dug from the field with a spike-tooth harrow or mechanically, the agronomist says.

The sprigging rate of at least ten bushels per acre should be used when planting in rows, and at least 25 bushels per acre when planted broadcast. The more sprigs planted the faster the stand and cover, he notes.

Also important in establishing a good stand is firming of the sprigs into the soil. In broadcast planting a cultivator-packer or other firming equipment should be rolled over the soil to assure proper packing.

Weed control is important with Coastal bermudagrass, and Pratt suggests using a pre-emerge chemical. If a herbicide is not applied immediately after sprigging then a post-emergence chemical should be used.

To receive maximum returns from Coastal, or any other hay crop, proper fertilization is important. A soil test is the best way to determine the amount of fertilizer needed at planting time and for continuous high production of good-quality forage advises Pratt.

KLEINGRASS
Don't call it a "wonder" grass but steers have made some eye-opening gains on it. Kleingrass, according to N. J. Norris, agronomist at the Livestock and Forage Research Center at McGregor, is a vigorous growing warm season perennial bunchgrass from South Africa that is leafy, fine stemmed, and does not become woody at maturity. It is drought resistant but makes rapid growth when soil moisture is present. It is easy to establish from seed; seedling plants grow vigorously.

Kleingrass was first grown in Texas in 1952 at the SCS grass nursery at San Antonio. Of the introductions in that nursery, the most promising forage producer was selected by James E. Smith, Jr. and distributed for trial plantings in 1957 as Selection 75. Most of the Texas commercial production plantings of Kleingrass are from this selection. Other selections and strains have been made and are under evaluation.

Kleingrass seems to be adapted to a wide range of soil and climatic conditions. It has grown well on heavy clays, sands, and clay loam soils under dry and wet conditions. It also has made good growth on upland and bottom-land soils.

Drought resistant qualities of the grass indicate it can be grown in drier areas than Coastal Bermuda although lower limits of moisture have not been determined. The cold tolerance of Kleingrass has not been fully determined but appears to be adaptable in Texas south of the Red River. The grass starts growing early in the spring and stops when freezing weather occurs. It will green up during periods of warm temperatures in the winter.

Information on animal performance and forage quality is limited but indicates the grass is equal or above average for warm season grasses. In grazing trials with beef steers at Beeville, the animal consumption and performance was satisfactory on green forage during the growing season and on dry, standing forage during the winter dormant period. Observations at McGregor for short grass

DRIED SKIM MILK WHIP

A dried skim milk which can be whipped into a low-calorie dessert topping has been developed by U.S.D.A. scientists. Skim milk which has been homogenized before drying and reconstituted with one part powder to two parts water will produce a foam if whipped for three minutes.

Public Hearing On Texas Water Plan Set For April 10

One day after receipt of the complete Texas Water Plan, the Texas Water Rights Commission held a special meeting and ordered a public hearing for April 10. The complete Plan was delivered to the Commission by the Texas Water Development Board on February 21.

Article 8280-9, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, requires that the Commission "hold a public hearing on said Plan to determine whether or not said Plan gives adequate consideration to the protection of existing water rights in this state and to determine whether or not said Plan takes into account modes and procedures for the equitable adjustment of water rights affected by said Plan."

Commissioner William E. Berger of Hondo moved to schedule the hearing for Thursday, April 10, 1969 at 10 a.m. in the hearing room of the Texas Highway Department at 11th and Brazos Streets, Austin. Judge Otha F. Dent of Littlefield seconded the motion, and Chairman Joe D. Carter of Sherman signed the order, calling for day to day continuance if necessary.

Any person who feels the Plan does not protect existing water rights should file a written statement at least five days before the hearing. Oral statements will also be permitted, provided that they are confined to the subject matter of the hearing.

Copies of the Texas water Plan may be obtained from the Texas Water Development Board, Austin.

PEST CONTROL CONFERENCES

The first Texas Conference on Insect, Plant Disease, Weed and Brush Control will be held at Texas A&M University, Feb. 24-26. Meetings are scheduled for the Memorial Student Center.

By Alva E. Sanders

Crops which farmers may plant on "additional" acreage diverted under the 1960 wheat and feed grain programs are sesame, guar, plantago ovata, mustard seed, crambe, sunflower and safflower. These alternate, non-surplus crops may be planted instead of devoting the acreage to an approved conserving use.

These alternate crops may be planted only on acreage that is voluntarily diverted in excess of the required minimum diversion. For feed grains the minimum diversion is 20 percent of the base and on wheat it is an acreage equal to 15 percent of the allotment.

Also as in previous years, program payments per acre will be reduced when these crops are planted on the additional diverted acres.

When sunflower or safflower crops are planted on the diverted acreage, there will be no diversion payment. When the other alternate crops are planted, payments will be reduced 50 percent.

Alternate planting does not apply to the cotton program, which has no diversion provisions for 1969.

NO MALICE

No American who ever lived had a greater grasp of the true meaning of Freedom than Abe Lincoln, the kindly and rugged-featured man who described this nation as having been "conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

But Abraham Lincoln knew that Liberty could not be won and maintained by men alone. He acknowledged Divine power. The Great Emancipator made that clear in all his classic utterances. The closing lines of the Gettysburg Address is our best example: "... that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom... and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth." That is Americanism.

Government Aids Available For College Education

COLLEGE STATION
If college is in your future plans but finances worry you, check ads the Federal Government offers, suggests Wanda Meyer, Extension home management, specialist. Students in colleges and other advanced training will receive financial aid totaling more than two billion dollars in the current school year under federal pro-grams, she says. Mrs. Meyer is a specialist at Texas A&M University.

This figure includes direct pay-ments, subsidized loans from fed-eral and college funds, loan guar-antees, veterans' benefits and payments for college to children of deceased workers who were covered by Social Security, Mrs. Meyer adds. More than 3 million students receive aid and many students get more than one type of assistance.

The Extension specialist explains the programs: National-defense student loans, with the Federal Government pay-ing 90 percent and colleges 10 percent, a total of $183.7 million to 546,000 students.

Guaranteed loans by private lenders of $630.7 millions to 750,000 students.

Federal work - study program, $149.7 million in wages to 369,000 students.

Educational opportunity grants by the Federal Government to students from families with low incomes, $136.3 to 293,000 students.

Social Security payments past age of 18, normal cutoff date, to children of deceased or totally disabled workers, $479 million to 466,000.

GI educational benefits to vet-erans $572 million to 818,000.

Benefits to children of veterans who died or became totally dis-abled as a result of service, $38 million to 56,800.

Vocational-rehabilitation training for veterans, $31 million to 19,600.

These estimates do not include about $330 million in financial aid which colleges provide from their own funds or many millions more from states, corporations and other organizations, Mrs. Meyers adds.

The winner of this honor will be granted a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual program and her school will be awarded a complete set of En-cyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclo-paedia Britannica, Inc. Croquettes Use Leftovers
If ever in doubt as to what to do with leftover ham, there are always croquettes. The recipe here is exceptional. After frying croquettes, top with cheese sauce and place in broiler until cheese is melted.

Ham Croquettes
2 tablespoons margarine
3 tablespoons corn starch
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
2 cups ground, cooked ham
1 1/2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1 egg
1 tablespoon water
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
Corn oil, for frying (about 1 quart)
Mozzarella cheese strips (optional)

Melt margarine in saucepan. Blend in corn starch and pepper. Remove from heat. Gradually add milk, mixing until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens, comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Remove from heat. Mix in ham, parsley, lemon juice and onion. Chill.

Shape mixture into 6 balls. Beat egg and water. Roll croquettes in bread crumbs, coat with egg mixture, then roll in bread crumbs. Meanwhile, pour corn oil into sturdy, deep fryer or skillet filling utensil 1/2 full. Heat over medium heat to 375 degrees F. or until 1-inch cube of bread turns brown in 49 seconds or use electric frypan following manufacturer's directions. Fry croquettes in hot oil until golden brown, about 4 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. If desired, top fried croquettes with strips of Mozzarella cheese and broil until cheese is melted. Makes 6 servings.

Proclamation

NATIONAL FFA WEEK

The Future Farmers of America organization is playing an outstanding role in assuring the future progress and prosperity of our community.

It is vital to our well-being that we train skilled farmers and ranchers to provide a plentiful supply of food products in years to come and to train those who will provide services to the farmer and process and distribute farm products.

The FFA is composed of students who are studying vocational agriculture in public schools in preparation for careers in farming, ranching, and related fields. In studying the science of agriculture, these Future Farmers are striving to continuously improve this great industry for the welfare of all citizens.

The FFA has performed the valuable service of developing leadership, encouraging cooperation, promoting good citizenship, teaching sound methods of farming, and inspiring patriotism among its members.

THEREFORE, I, as Mayor, do hereby designate the week of February 15-22, 1969, as NATIONAL FFA WEEK IN CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS.

s E. A. Perrin
